What it's like living with a ginger:

Day to day life, living with a ginger can be quite difficult. The hardest thing for me is helping apply the Sunscreen (SPF 60). Some days it can take up to 15 minutes to apply. My Grandma tells me that if I put my milk in my cup before putting the tea in I wont have Red headed babies... My milk always goes in first! I LOVE MY GINGER, no matter how much grief he causes me some days.
